

Patron Driven Acquisitions (PDA)

Build your collection and boost circulation by including library customers in your acquisitions process.

The Patron Driven Acquisitions system from Whitehots lets customers have their say in the library world and to be directly engaged in influencing the library services they use. This innovative online solution allows your library to get customers involved in recommending books for your collection — essentially crowdsourcing for effective collection development.

How Patron Driven Acquisition works

Accessed through your library website, the PDA system allows customers to take advantage of Whitehots' extensive database to suggest books for your collection, and when viable, to allow you to easily order the suggested materials while managing your budget.

At Whitehots we thrive on working in partnership with libraries to generate innovative ideas and to help make them a reality.
