

Joe DiMaggio Children's Hospital Center for Complex Care offers tailored resources to optimize the health of children and adolescents with multiple health conditions providing a coordinated approach to their complex care. Our team of pediatric specialists provide holistic care, including office visits, needs assessments for home-based services, short- and long-term medical planning, second opinions for rare conditions, and transitional care support for shifts in care environments. This comprehensive approach ensures continuity and quality of care for medically complex children and adolescents, whether transitioning from hospital to home, between care providers, or approaching adulthood.

Our alliance with Boston Children's Hospital offers an expanded network of experts, resources, and support — in one seamless experience. Through this alliance, experts from both hospitals can review a child's health issues and provide a collective approach to care, managing even the rarest and most complex conditions while keeping patients close to home.
