

OP Mental Health Monitor

A dashboard to support the mental health of the children in your care

Children and adolescents are reporting mental and behavioral health concerns during pediatric visits at a staggering rate. To address this growing concern, OP has created a behavioral health dashboard that provides actionable data to help you manage your caseload and monitor and treat your patients.

The OP Mental Health Monitor analyzes data from behavioral health-focused surveys, identifies those patients most at risk, and tracks the scores to account for changes — both positive and negative. Information is displayed in an easy-to-use dashboard that helps you quickly and accurately take appropriate action for your at-risk patients.

- Easily monitor all patients designated with behavioral health concerns
- Drill down into the details to gain a better understanding of specific clinical information

- Quickly assess effectiveness of interventions by tracking behavioral health survey scores
- Visualize trends in survey scores using the dashboard's charts and graphs

- Identify high-risk patients that may require more immediate attention
- Manage and track referrals to ensure your patients are getting the treatment they need

The OP Mental Health Monitor is just one tool in your toolbox that helps you care for the mental health of your patients.

We believe the needs of pediatric patients go beyond physical care.

Children today need emotional and behavioral healthcare, too. Check out our entire suite of products to help you treat the “whole child,” so your patients achieve better outcomes and live happier, healthier lives.
