Developing life-changing products through medical expertise, cutting-edge technology, and design

Our Story

Sun Scientific was founded in 2008 by a practicing surgeon with the sole purpose of improving lives. Frustrated with the lack of adequate solutions for his patients suffering with chronic leg swelling diseases, Dr. Ravikumar set out to fix the issue and create clinically effective compression products that are easy to self-apply, mobile, attractive, and comfortable.

Headquartered just outside New York City, our product development team of engineers and designers works closely with the world's leading clinical experts to create people-centric solutions for lifelong problems.
